

I support the ARRL petition to create a 60 meter amateur band for several reasons. First, 40 meters is a very crowded band, and 80 meters has it's associated problems. 60 meters would fill the void during disasters, and provide additional spectrum for amateur activity. There will be many times when the allocation at 60 meters will benefit many people. Please allow Amateur Radio this small piece of radio spectrum. Thank you